Sound Off 729-4006 is your personal forum and squawk box. We broadcast your comments on most any subject. Otherwise we may edit you.

Women are carrying this sexual harassment thing way too far

This is what I want to squawk about: sexual harassment. OK, I'm a woman, and I can't stand all these women going around and crying sexual harassment.

If a guy tells you something you don't like, tell him to get lost. If he puts his hands on you, punch him out.

Come on now, women are carrying this sexual harassment thing way too far.

There's a line between flirting and sexual harassment. And women today seem to have the line confused.

Caller deplores Canton Township's Holiday Nature Preserve role

In reference to the Holliday Park Nature Preserve: I feel that if Canton Township will do damage to the wildlife, killing deer and small animals, just for profit, it's despicable.

It's a shame that Canton is able to hurt Holliday Nature Preserve

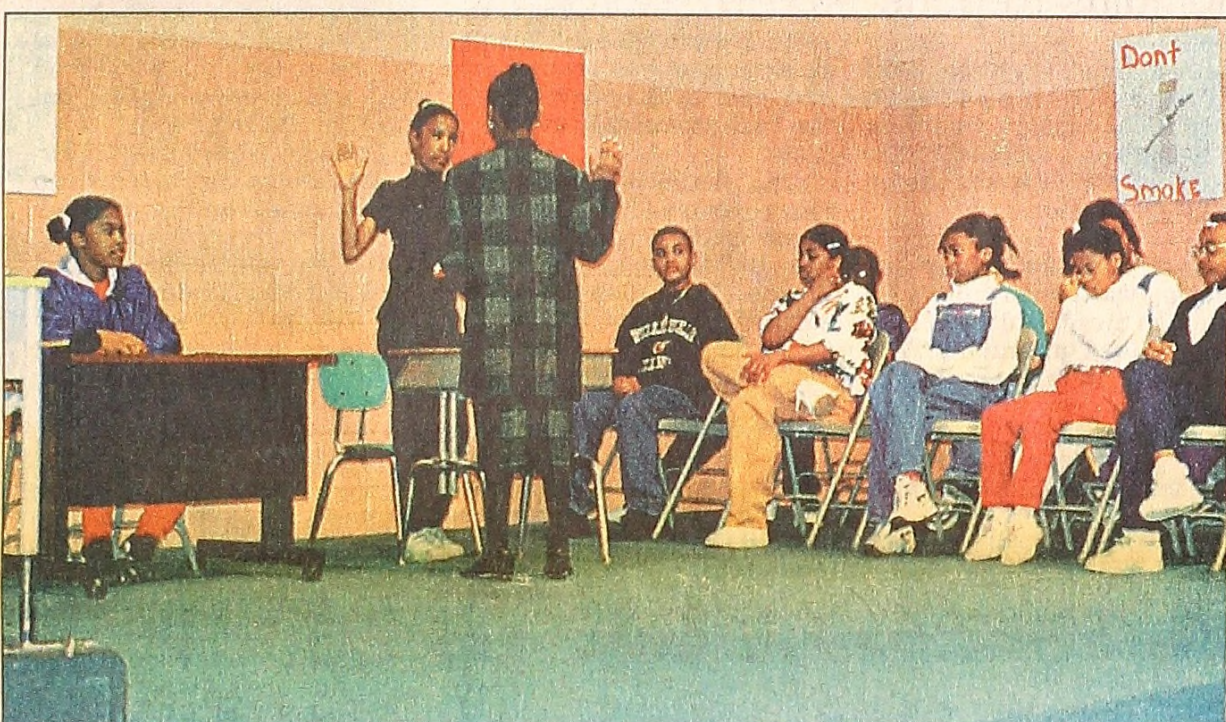

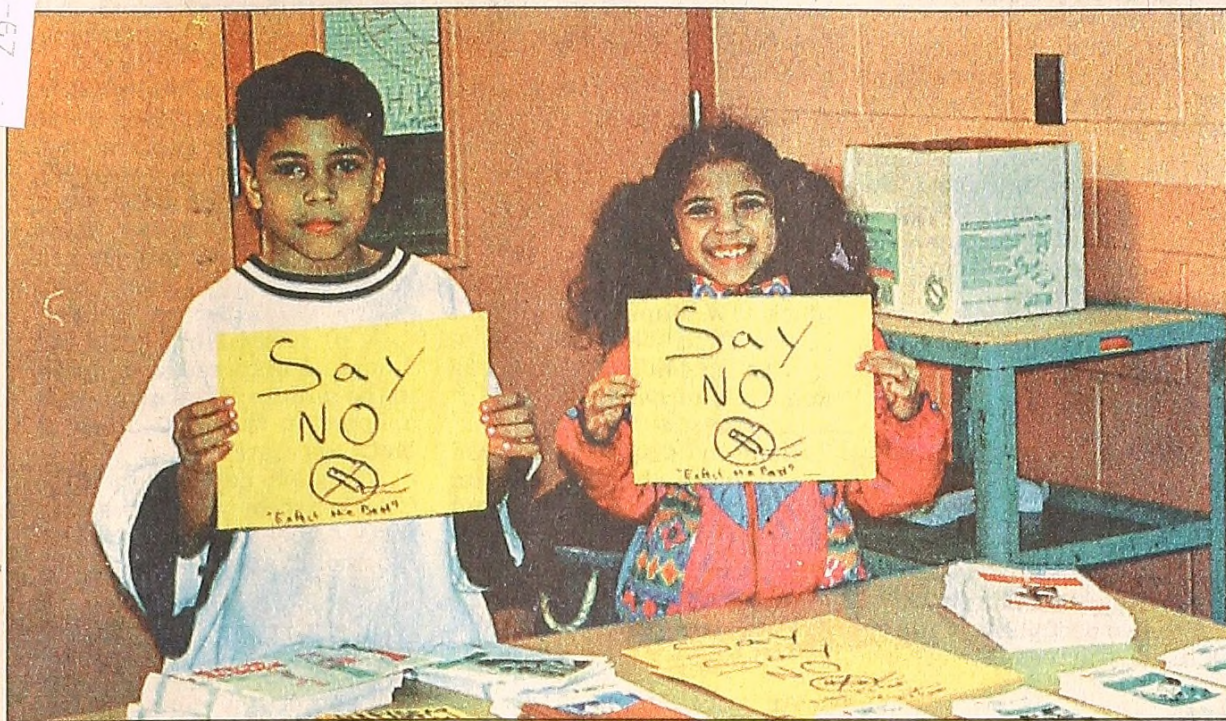

I wish you had printed your article about Holliday Nature Preserve before the Canton Township Board approved a development that may harm it, not afterwards when it's too late to do something.

I applaud the informed people who showed up to protest the board's thoughtless decision, but I wish that you had warned us about what was happening.

It's a shame that one local government can harm a valuable natural resource in a neighboring community without any warning or a place to appeal destructive development.

'Miss Butts' sentenced to die

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Angered over the spiraling use of cigarettes by their peer age group nationally, students at Cory Elementary School sentenced to death "Miss Butts" a symbol of the tobacco industry.

The students performing in a 45-minute mock trial drama last Friday, heard the health concern case presented by a fictional accountant with emphysema and a housewife with throat cancer.

The script was composed by the students themselves and offered to a gathering of about 50 parents.

The play ironically was performed only a day after latest medical studies showed that the use of cigarettes by youth is actually on a major rise across the U.S.

Young Monica Cox played the part of the judge in the case and Dominique Kersey served as the prosecutor. Lynsi Ransaw was "Miss Butts", Yetty Emanuel was the U.S. Surgeon General and Kourtney Lester served as a representative from the American Cancer Society.

The two cancer patients were played by James Hayes and Lakishia Street and Don-dra Tate was the governor of North Carolina. Deandre Hayes was a representative from R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

Meanwhile Reshonda Parker served as an expert on the U.S. Constitution and Triniece Courtney acted as the human heart.

The jury was composed of Henry Wiggin, Kim Atkins, Corrie McKendry, Nicole Klages, Sabrina Hool, Larnie Neal, Kieva Wilson, Anotonia Walker and Gendia Moise.

Airport noise stats hit by council

Romulus City Council members expressed deep disappointment Monday night over the limited information passed on to them by current Detroit Metro Airport Noise Czarina Colleen Pobur.

Included in this past week's council packet was a report on a breakdown of phone calls received by the noise complaint

"hot line" from Romulus residents and businesses.

The report stated 52 calls were phoned in from 18 different callers and that the majority of the calls (77.78 percent) dealt with problems from airplane departure noises.

Smaller numbers of complaints were filed for arrival noises (16.6 percent), ground noise (11.11 percent) and unknown noise sources (5.56 percent).

It also was reported 100 percent of the calls dealt with jet noise, rather than helicopter or other noises.

Timewise, 50 percent of the noise problems came during the morning and afternoon, 33 percent during the evening.

Free dumping week slated

Once again Romulus residents will be permitted a week of free dumping at the city's Department of Public Works property at 34100 Goddard road from May 30 until June 6.

Saturday dumping hours will be from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. and weekdays will be from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. There will be no dumping allowed on Sunday May 31.

Mayor William Oakley urged that the free dumping be once again tied in with the city's spring clean up program and along with DPW Director David Paul has ordered that dumpsters be set up at the dump site during these periods.

The dumping regulations include:

- all users must show proof of Romulus residency.
- no more than two dump loads a day.
- no commercial dumping will be allowed.

- no dumping of concrete or dirt.
- a maximum of four tires will be accepted at the dump site.

- no tree limbs, tree trunks or yard waste will be allowed.
- no large items such as boats, sheds, cars, engines, etc.
- no liquid waste (chemicals, petroleum products, paint etc) will be accepted.

5 seeking board seats

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The battle for two soon to be empty trustee seats on the Romulus School Board will be waged by five candidates - two women and three men - as a 30-year-old father of two young Merriman School students beat the filing deadline last Friday.

The last to enter the race for a four year trustee term was Theodore "Ted" Armstrong, who works for Ford Motor Co. in Wayne.

He revealed Tuesday morning that he will raise questions on a multitude of issues involving the school district during his battle to earn a victory next June 8.

Also seeking a seat on the seven member board will be: City Recreation Director Debbie Dick, school activist Sheri Hicks, Romulus Police Officer Alan Lambert and commuter analyst Eddie Woods.

All four candidates have children currently studying in the district schools. Armstrong's two children, Nicole and Dustin, attend Merriman Elementary School.

The seats become open in June, when current Board President Julie Oleszkowicz and trustee Judith Gondek step down after completing their four year terms.

The current trend of Romulus school trustees appears to be a dramatic change from the past, when many trustees served three, four or more terms.

Now trustees are opting to seek one term and then retire.

The next board probably will be dealing with several main issues, including the teacher contract issue and televising the school board meetings.

At least two of the candidates (Dick and Hicks) apparently will run strongly on getting a signed contract with the teachers as soon as possible.

The two elected board members this June also will play another important role as they will wield two powerful votes whenever Superintendent Dr. William Bedell steps down. He has 18 years in as Romulus superintendent.

It is not known who will replace Bedell, but it appears doubtful that anyone currently on staff will get the nomination. Bedell is expected to retire in the next few years and then it appears the school board will ask for a wide search for his replacement.

Boys/Girls Club pledged $61,000

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The proposed Romulus Boys/Girls Club organization reportedly has received pledges of over $61,000 from national and local organizations, spokeswoman Phyllis Adkins revealed Tuesday.

The major pledge $50,000 came from the national Boys/Girls Club organization itself, Adkins said.

Two $5,000 pledges came from the Romulus Rotary Club and the Mayors' Drug Task Force, she added.

Another $1,000 pledge was issued by the Romulus Pastors' Association.

Club activists are currently seeking to secure a facility to open early next year, if not before, she said.

John Juriga, head of the Romulus Middle School Smart Lab, is currently the president of the fledgling group. More than 40 community activists are involved in the start up of the organization.

Juriga granted full-time post

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Deborah Juriga, who has served as interim principal at Wick Elementary School (the largest elementary school in the district) since September, has been given the permanent appointment by Superintendent Dr. William Bedell.

Juriga, who expressed excitement and elation over the permanent appointment late last month, spent most of her 27-year career in the field of special education teaching.

Romulus Schools Human Resources Director Sam LaMonica praised the positive "mix of Juriga and the dedicated educational staff at Wick for helping to expand the kind of spirit we want in the school district."

Curriculum Director Thomas Dolan also was highly supportive of making Juriga the permanent principal. He stated "Debbie has a long history of passion for education in Romulus -- working hard in both schools and the community. Her efforts will have an immediate positive impact on this school district."

Prior to being named principal, Juriga was extremely active in the total district picture serving as school improvement facilitator from 1989-96, teacher mentor, department head for special education and district co-chair of the North Central Association Accreditation process.

She also has long been active in professional organizations and the First United Methodist Church of Belleville.

Dog license fees rise

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

City fees for Romulus dog owners pet licenses will be hiked (in some cases doubled) on May 1. Thus those residents wishing to avoid the cost hike for 1998 have less than a month to pick up their licenses for their dogs.

The City Council recently approved the hike in the dog license fees, the first hike since 1978.

A sampling of area dog license fees reveal that Romulus pet owners will still be paying less than many of their counterparts in nearby towns.

The cost for neutered one year licenses for dogs will rise from $1.50 to $3 in May. Two year licenses will be $5 and three years will be $8.

Licenses for dogs that have not been neutered (listed by the city as intact) will rise from $4 to $8 for one year. The costs for two years will be $12 and three years will be $15.

The cost savings for neutered pets is an effort by the Students recognized

On April 2, the students and their parents were invited to a brief ceremony honoring them. These students were selected by their respective teacher for excelling behaviorally and academically for the month of March.

There were a total of 33 Romulus students recognized as "Student of the Month" for March.

With St. Patrick's Day in mind, students were presented with a green and white carnation along with their certificates of achievement and a Romulus Middle School Bulldog ink pen.

Parents were also honored with their students, and received a Romulus Middle School Student of the Month bulldog mug. Life Management classes provided the delicious refreshments for this special evening.

Optimists will host reading program

The Wayne/Romulus Optimist Club members, community leaders and Romulus school employees, volunteered their time to be guest readers at Cory elementary school during March, "National Reading Month."

This month long event was another service project sponsored by the Optimist Club. The books read to the children were selected by Alberta Garrett, Romulus High media specialist, and members of the Optimist Club.

Readers were enthusiastically received by Cory's student and staff. Each child was presented a "READ" bookmark and treats as a part of the program.

Optimists Mae Jackson and Opal McClendon, served as coordinators for the program, working with the school's staff, recruiting and scheduling the readers.

A special thank you was extended to the following readers: Betty Lenossi, Eva Webb, Nancy Smukal, Officer John Smagner, Stancy Adams, Phyllis Wilkerson and Tom Dolan, Optimists Rev. Virgil Humes, Alberta Garrett, Al Wilkerson, Rosalie Berlinn, and Vivian Holifield.

Railroads' merger causing concerns

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus has joined Taylor in expressing its traffic concerns pending a merger of several top railroad lines this year.

The pending merger will join Conrail Railroad with Norfolk Southern and CSX lines and will add to probably both the frequency and length of trains passing through the two cities.

Taylor city officials approved a recent resolution that stated the merger will "increase train traffic throughout Taylor, which may be detrimental to the level of service on the roads, including potential negative impacts on the city's emergency response capabilities."

The Taylor resolution also cited the strong possibility of an increase in noise evolving from the trains and asked that the "potential effects on the natural and human environment due to the proposed acquisition of Conrail be mitigated prior to the final acquisition."

The Romulus council agreed and also asked City Clerk Linda Choate to personalize the city's resolution since a number of key traffic patterns will be affected by the heavier train traffic.

It's Sen. Loren Bennett vs. Mayor Ken Warfield for Senate

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

While it's a mystery what goes on in the back rooms of the Michigan Senate, it's no secret how state Senate candidates campaign: one handshake, 10 smiles, and 100 promises for every voter.

For newspapers, the only difference is that you get a photo, a press release, and an interview.

We received all three from Sen. Loren Bennett, R-Canton, who defends his 8th District seat, which includes all of Westland, the south half of Canton, Wayne, Romulus, Belleville, Van Buren, Sumpter, Huron Township, Brownstown, Woodhaven, Flat Rock, and Rockwood, against Mayor Ken Warfield, D-Wayne, come November 1998; but only a press kit from the challenger.

"The difference between me and Warfield is that I'm a proven commodity," said Bennett. "I've demonstrated time and time again what I can accomplish on the state level."

High on his list of accomplishments is the tuition tax credit legislation he proposed.

"My first bill, it's a $375 tuition tax credit, not a deduction, available to students going to public state universities that keep their tuition below the rate of inflation," he said.

Because tuition is capped below the rate of inflation, Michigan universities are holding tuition down, in contrast to the nation, where tuition has increased about $1,500 per year, Bennett said.

As chairman of the Senate Committee on Environmental Quality, Bennett said he shepherded legislation enabling businesses to clean up pollution safely and affordably.

Ken Warfield

"Since it passed, over $300 million has been invested by the private sector to clean up pollution," he said.

He also helped a Westland citizens group secure a grant to preserve most of Sassafras Trails from development.

Bennett said that three of his strengths are common-sense, making issues understandable, and standing up to special interests.

"I was willing to take on the tobacco industry by trying to ban cigarette billboard advertising on the highways," he said.

He said that he has also renounced taking money from businesses that he regulates.

"I haven't taken any money from landfill operators for 2.5 years," he said. "I'm not aware of receiving money from the teachers unions. I raise a lot of money but most of it is from individuals."

Warfield, supplied us with a press release, that attributes his decision to having once been nearly killed in the line of duty. Warfield was almost killed when a leaky gas line he was attempting to plug exploded. The house collapsed on top of him severely burning and injuring him.

"That experience, taught me the value of investing for the future," Warfield said.

As Wayne's Fire Chief and Mayor, Warfield said he has been instrumental in protecting and improving the quality of life in his community. Wayne become the second city in the United States to require smoke detectors in homes and businesses. As Mayor, Warfield said that he led efforts to build a new library, senior center and family aquatic center.

"Nothing will be more important to me as a State Senator than increasing our investment in education and raising standards," he said. "I will also work to improve the deplorable condition of our roads and to protect the health care and pensions of our retirees."

Minority bone marrow donors needed

To assist the National Marrow Donor Program (NMDP) in diversifying its donor registry, four local recruitment drives will be held to encourage minority participation in this life-saving endeavor. The drives are free to all minority participants.

Racial groups being sought include African Americans, Asian and Pacific Islanders, Hispanics, American Indians and Alaska natives. The recruitment drives will be held at the following locations:

Tuesday, April 14 from noon to 7 p.m.;

McAuley Cancer Care Center, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, 5301 E. Huron River Drive, Ann Arbor.

McPherson Hospital, 620 Bryon Road, Howell.

Wednesday, April 15 from 1:30 to 7 p.m.;

Chelsea Community Hospital, 775 S. Main, Chelsea.

Wednesday, April 15 from 1:30 to 6 p.m.;

Saline Community Hospital, 400 W. Russell, Saline.

Saint Joseph Mercy Health System's Clinical Laboratories, McAuley Cancer Care Center and the Ann Arbor

Chapter of Jack and Jill are sponsoring the local drives and will cover all costs for those who volunteer.

Volunteer donors must be between the ages of 18 and 60, in good general health and not excessively overweight. To be added to the NMDP registry, volunteers must sign a consent form and have a small sample of blood drawn for testing.

SJMHS is sponsoring the drives in recognition of National Medical Laboratory Week, April 12-18.

Read this newspaper and win $1000 cash

Once a year, Michigan Community Newspaper likes to reward its loyal readers with the ability to win cash and prizes. Starting next week for eight consecutive weeks, MCN will give away $1000 in cash.

Called the GRAND GIVEAWAY, this latest contest involves no skill. All you have to do is read this newspaper from cover to cover each Thursday. Scattered throughout the newspaper in advertisements will be dozens of phone numbers. If you find your phone number you must call 313-729-4000 immediately.

The first 10 people that call each week will be designated semi-finalists and eligible for the weekly drawing each Monday. From that drawing one person will win $1000.00 cash, $8000.00 will be awarded in total.

Imagine sitting down for your morning coffee, picking up the local Eagle, and reading a story about the neighbor boy who saved a dog's life. Below the article is an advertisement from Garden Fantasy talking up the Spring gardening season. As you read the ad, whamo, you find your phone number. You call 729-4000, and learn that you are one of 10 semi-finalists that may win a $1000.00 Monday. Wouldn't that be exciting? It could happen. This is no April Fools joke.

Frankly, all of us at MCN are extremely elated over this new contest. Handing over $8000.00 to friends and neighbors can warm the coldest hearts.

Last year at this time, if you remember, you had the opportunity to win $1,000,000. But the odds were slim, and none of our 60 finalists had phone numbers that matched the numbers in the vault.

This year we decided we wanted winners, no matter what. Thus we determined we could give-away a $1000 a week for eight weeks, approximately the same amount of money we spend last year on the $1,000,000 insurance policy.

The GRAND GIVEAWAY starts next Thursday, April 18. It will appear in MCN's six Thursday editions-Westland Eagle, Wayne Eagle, Canton Eagle, Inkster Ledger-Star, Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman. Each week (April 16, 23, 30, May 7, 14, 21, 28 and June 4) a new Giveaway begins. Winners will be announced each week as well.

Thus you have a new reason to read your local community newspaper. Not only will you read about the local news that effects your daily living, but now you can win cash! Again the contest is very simple...find your phone number in the newspaper and then call 729-4000 immediately. We'll be waiting on the other end, eager to assist.

Mike's musings

Mike Wilcox

Hope they don't ban strawberries

We all have guilty pleasures. Mine is the Hash Bash held every April at the Diag on University of Michigan's Central Campus.

Though I missed this year's extravaganza, which attracted 5,000 potheads and gawkers, I read about it with relish in the Sunday's Ann Arbor News.

In case you're wondering, I'm not a pothead. I'm a gawker, and proud of it.

I just wish there were more genuinely local events to gawk at. With the country becoming more and more homogenized, why bother to go anywhere? Might as well watch the world on cable TV.

But the Hash Bash is a one-of-a-kind event. You won't see it the mall. You won't see it on prime time.

It's so different, I can hardly describe it. There's young white guys with fuzzy beards and Afro hairdos and bare chests; hippie chicks with flowing and tie-dye shirts and bare feet; and there's a hundred bongo players. That's the describable part.

The indescribable part is the innocent sixties feeling of a New World a-coming. Back then, living off of your parents, it seemed like you could do anything, as long as you beat the draft.

And while you really couldn't do anything, it seemed like it because for the duration of the Vietnam War, all taboos were lifted.

Thirty years later, all the taboos have been reinstated with such a vengeance that it's scary. Political correctness, multiculturalism, and cookie cutter zoning have forged, for the time being, a severe conformity with few healthy or legal outlets for nonconformists. It's gotten so Canton can't even allow a Bad Frog Tavern, as if a frog bar would give the city warts.

In my experience, the freedom urge will always be with us. Rather than fight it, as they do now, I say flaunt it, like we did in the sixties, like they do at the Hash Bash.

The alternative is to repress it. But how do you do it? With more and more prisons - at least that's how we do it in Michigan.

I had really been looking forward to this year's Hash Bash. Problem was I didn't know when it was. Every other year I just wound up there. Serendipity.

This year my luck ran out. Or did it? Seems that this year, instead of plugging for freedom, the Hash Bashers turned political. They lobbied for medical marijuana.

That's not what the Hash Bash is all about. It's about freedom. If the Hash Bashers have to stoop to hiding behind the medical marijuana issue, perhaps the freedom issue will be lost. Then Hash Bash can fold up its tent and the only genuinely regional event left will be the Strawberry Festival.

Hope they don't ban strawberries.

Writer 'shines a hokey apple' in wrestling story

To the editor:

This letter is in response to your front-page article entitled: "All American". This front page story graces the cover of the Wayne Eagle for the week of April 2-April 8, 1998 and is a story about Melissa Fogarty's wrestling achievements.

Tom Mooradian wrote this sloppy piece of trite. It is unfortunate the Eagle cannot afford concise writers, as Mr. Mooradian comments are loose and irresponsible.

Mr. Mooradian has written just a few words that have been printed, cannot be retracted, and will cause a lifetime of hurt for those involved. Mr. Mooradian is an irresponsible, sloppy, and an unconscionable reporter. He may not be these things in his personal life, but they exude in his "professionalism".

The article starts off nicely as Mr. Mooradian begins to shine a hokey apple. This is good for Melissa's sake, as she is 16 and her first exposure publicly. No, it's not true her younger sister wants to follow in her footsteps. Her younger sister is Melissa's negative. They have one thing in common, they're sisters. Everything is else is polar opposite. Melissa's sister doesn't live in the same home, go to the same school district, or even care about sports. Melissa's sister lives in a different city altogether with her father. Melissa lives with her mother.

I find it difficult how Mr. Mooradian can refer to her sister's desires when Melissa's sister lives with her father and Melissa's sister was never contacted. I also find it difficult to believe that Melissa's sister is referenced from her father's house but her father was "unavailable for comment" and further more DISAPPROVES of Melissa's accomplishments because he could not be reached for comment.

When did Mr. Mooradian and the Wayne Eagle decide they were entitled to a damaging Carte Blanche statement like that when neither contacted Melissa's father for a comment?

If you haven't figured it out by now, I am Melissa's father. I am all too easy to be reached. I'm sure during the interview, your very capable reporter could have asked my daughter Melissa for my phone number, work number, cell phone number, fax number, or one of my two beeper numbers. In all, I have 8 telephone numbers, a fax, and an answering machine. If that's a problem, I also have 4 e-mail addresses. Contacting me is not a problem. The truth is I am always available for comment. Your man didn't make the effort. I am furious enough to litigate.

If Mr. Mooradian had made even a feeble attempt to do his job he would have realized that I also wrestled for 3 years as did my brother for the Wayne-Westland School District back in the early 70's. Melissa's Father and Uncle both have wrestling letters and medals from the same district. We did no achieve lofty status, but we were there all the same.

If you would like to see Melissa receiving her National Medal on the podium, you would have to contact me because I was the proud parent taking the video. I have the pictures of Melissa getting her hand raised in victory; I took the videotapes of Melissa being congratulated for her efforts from her coach. Melissa wouldn't have made it to the State Finals because I am the one who spent my weekend transporting her and supporting her at the trials. I attend the yearly wrestling banquets to applaud all the wrestlers receiving awards for their accomplishments.

I have also made it a point to privately tell Melissa that I support her efforts and the amount of dedication that goes into what she is doing. I wanted Melissa to know that her hard work and commitment to what she is doing is hon-

Thanks a Million

WEEKLY SYNDICATED COLUMN by PERCY ROSS

Millionaire Percy Ross is known for his philanthropic work. He offers help and encouragement for those in need. He has earned a fortune and a wealth of knowledge during his lifetime and wants to share both. His motto: "He who gives while he lives... also knows where it goes."

Time To Start Minding Other People's Business

Dear Percy: There is a 12 year old girl on our block who has the worst teeth I've ever seen. They are absolutely mangled, twisted and turned in every direction. She's in the sixth grade and her self-esteem is so low, she continually keeps her head down. Even when you're talking to her, she speaks like she's looking for something lost on the ground. I probably shouldn't get involved.

When I questioned her mother why she doesn't take the girl in for braces, she got real upset with me and told me to mind my own business. She later phoned me and apologized. She went on to tell me that braces would cost $500 to get started. She thought she could afford the $100 a month payment if she got a second job, but that most of what she earned would be taken up by paying a babysitter (there are 3 other younger children in the family). I offered to babysit the kids from 3:15 to 8 at night so she could pay the braces off that much faster. The only thing missing is the $500 down payment. Call me a meddler, Mr. Ross, but I hate to see a 12 year old girl robbed of a decent childhood.

Mrs. V. P. ... The Advocate, Victoria, TX

Dear Mrs. P.: Why is it if you go out on a limb nowadays, rather than getting credit for being a caring person, people are quick to label you a "meddler"? If you ask me, in our society we need a lot more meddlers like you. My $500 cash will set things in motion and that's exactly what I'm sending you, along with my admiration for being such a fine meddler.

Dear Mr. Ross: In the past I've been able to brush myself off after falling and get back in the saddle. Not so this time. I've been diagnosed with an advanced case of cervical cancer. I could go any day. My greatest regret is leaving my 5 year old black labrador behind. I have no family-I never married or had any children. I have one cousin who lives in Arizona and she is willing to take "Boots" to live with her. I want to keep Boots until the end. After I die my neighbor has agreed to drive

Boots out to Phoenix. The $400 I had set aside for gas and meals to accomplish this, I had to spend today. I spent it on some needed pain medication for myself and to get Boots current on her shots. If I live for 2 more months I can save $400 again, but if I were to die next week, there will be no funds. It would give me great peace of mind knowing Boots was taken care of. If you would send me $400, I promise, if I live long enough I'll repay. Please understand my situation.

Miss G. F. ... The Budgeteer, Duluth, MN

Dear Miss F.: Be at peace to meet your Maker because $400 is on the way. And please know that you and Boots will meet again in a much better place. For a love that strong can not be diminished by time or distance apart.

Dear Percy: You still have not answered me. Why is it you can send money to a person in prison, or a person who lost his money at a gambling casino, but can't send money to a man who helped his parents? What makes you think a gambler and a prisoner are more important than someone like me who helps others? Did you take time to think that your judgment toward me will be remembered? God will remember how you treated me. Percy Ross, when you get hit with hard times, it will be by your actions that God brought hard times upon you. You will be forced to get on your knees and beg for mercy. I sent you a self-addressed-stamped-envelope and that obligates you to answer my letter.

Mr. D. J. ... Commercial Appeal, Memphis, TN

Dear Mr. J.: Obligated to respond? Yes. Obligated to respond in a favorable way? No. Perhaps it's time you stopped taking my inventory and started taking your own.

Editor's note: Check your local radio station for Percy Ross' call of the day and visit his web site at www.thanksamillion.com orable and to be admired. The fact that wrestling is involved is irrelevant.

The absolutely irresponsible and sloppiness of Mr. Mooradian's work puts a dagger through the heart of all that: "Melissa's father, however, apparently does not approve. He was unavailable for comment."

This is an article Melissa wants to be proud of, show her friends, coach, fellow wrestlers and family. This article will be displayed at Wayne Memorial for everyone to read. My family and many friends/acquaintances throughout your publishing area will read this article. I grew up in the Wayne-Westland area and am known by many. What a horrible shadow you've casted! How can Melissa enjoy this article and keep it to show her kids someday? Here's a thought...let's say it was true, you contacted me and I said that I didn't approve. Why would it be necessary to taint a 16 year old girls article with that statement! Would you write about YOUR daughters wedding and how beautiful it was but also mention how much your wife hated her new son-in-law? How moronic.

How will Melissa respond to the part about her father? She doesn't have the social skills at her age to shrug it off. This is an article she will want to keep for life and show her kids someday. Too bad it is tainted with incompetence.

What an absolute disappointment your paper is.

Victims' Rights week kicked off

To the editor:

Mothers Against Drunk Driving is proud to announce this years annual Crime Victims' Rights Week to be observed April 19 through 25. The 1998 theme is "Victim's Rights: Right for America." MADD welcomes the opportunity to join with thousands of other victim advocates, criminal justice, and allied professional organizations and agencies, to focus public attention to the area of victim rights.

We are fortunate in Michigan to have these rights guaranteed to our citizens with the 1988 passage of the Crime Victims' Right Act Amendment to our Michigan Constitution. Other significant progress has been made in the promotion of the Designated Driver program, calls to 9-1-1 to report drunken driving violations to law enforcement, zero alcohol tolerance for under age youth, and the most recent passage by the U.S. Senate of the .08 percent legal limit for intoxication behind the wheel of a car. Research has indicated this legislation will save between 500-600 lives nationwide each year.

Did you know that drunken driving is the nations most frequently committed violent crime? Did you know that in 1996, 17,126 people were killed in the United States as a result of alcohol-related traffic crashes—an average of one every 32 minutes? These deaths constituted approximately 41 percent of the 41,093 total number of traffic fatalities which occurred in 1996. Did you know it is estimated that 1,058,990 people were injured in alcohol-related crashes in 1995? On an average, one person is injured as a result of alcohol-impaired driving every 30 seconds. Did you know that two in every five American's will be involved in an alcohol-related crash at some time in their lives? All the above information has been reported by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, Washington, D.C., U.S. Department of Transportation.

MADD, Michigan invited you to join us in our mission to stop drunk driving and support the victims of this violent crime. If you are in need of victim assistance, please call us at 800-323-6233 any weekday between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

Sincerely,
Marian Pearson

Too many people give Clinton credit for balanced budget

To the editor:

For a great many years neither the Democrats nor the Republicans tried to do anything to put a rein on medicare spending. Neither dared to try, fearing political suicide. No serious attempt to reform welfare was attempted either. In recent months the Republican sponsored legislation reforming and legislating reductions and improvements in several of the Liberal misadventures has been accomplished.

Too many have given Bill Clinton the credit for the march towards a balanced budget and the push to get people off welfare and put them to work. True, Clinton did sign the Republican sponsored legislation. Speaking smoothly and also with a forked tongue, one may have trouble guessing the direction the President will take when spurred to action. His moorings still seem to be liberal, big government, restricted enterprise, and suggest, at times, a decided anti free market inclination. His seeming middle-of-the-road and new Democrat posture has confused many in the populace. How else could one explain his poll popularity during the airing of suggested bathroom, bedroom, and dining room carpet escapades?

Sincerely,
Neil Goodbred

Wayne Memorial High School earns national attention for Kick Butts Day

By JENNY JOHNSON
MCN Staff Writer

It's time to kick butts. That is exactly what students and staff at Wayne Memorial High School did last week. They participated in the anti-smoking campaign "Kick Butts Day."

They were excited that their efforts drew national attention. U.S. Secretary of Education Richard Riley visited the school on Thursday to recognize the efforts by the student body in their anti-smoking campaign.

His message was, "If you don't smoke, don't start! And if you've started, stop. If you need help, work with your parents, friends, teachers, ministers and rabbis. Work with the students who have been involved in "Kick Butts Day" here at Wayne Memorial High and at other schools. When kids work together, they can really "kick butts."

Student Jennifer Yancey was Secretary Riley's Zebra Guide.

She gave him a tour of the displays developed by students to get their friends, families and teacher to stop smoking.

Life Skill teacher Louise Hart and the Zebra Guides coordinated the week's events.

Principal Leo Schuster explained Hart involved the entire student body in several activities for "Kick Butts Day."

All week long students wore necklaces with information on the front and three jeopardy questions on the back.

Secretary Riley was quizzed and answered his jeopardy question correctly.

Students also carried bottles with cigarette butts and water with a Surgeon General warning to send a visual message.

There were also free quit kits, a video titled "Dying for a smoke", "I Quit" buttons, surveys and rot your teeth not your lungs candy cigarettes on sale for $.25.

"These displays were well thought out with clear messages," Secretary Riley said.

Students from Adams Middle School and Kettering Elementary School also participated in the "Kick Butt Campaign." They sent letters and pictures to the students at Wayne encouraging them not to smoke. They were displayed on all of the lockers.

Then he shared some startling statistics with the group.

Every day 3,000 children and teenager start to smoke for the first time and 1,000 of them will die prematurely from tobacco-related diseases.

He said, "Smoking kills more people than AIDS, alcohol, auto accidents, murders, drug abuse and fires combined."

"At one point in the recent past, researcher discovered that more 6-year old children could recognize Joe Camel than Mickey Mouse. Joe is gone now, but his terrible impact will remain with us for many years," he said.

Tiffany Watson, a junior said, "I was honored he came to our school."

The statistics he shared were scary she said.

Angela Moran said the campaign has drawn a lot of student interest.

"There interested in the facts," she said.

Watson and Moran said they never realized what a problem teen smoking was before they participated in "Kick Butts Day."

Kimika Moore and Jamesha Bell received a lot of interest when they carried cigarette butt filled bottles around all week.

"This is what your lungs look like," they told students.

Riley said he applauds the students leadership and "will talk about what you are doing all across the country."

He said everyone who participated in "Kick Butts" day "is a big hero in my book. On behalf of President Clinton, I want to thank each of you for taking responsibility and showing real leadership."

Students' Illusion wins second

By JENNY JOHNSON
MCN Staff Writer

What features will a car in 2010 have? Too far in the future to think about. Not for eight groups of high school students who competed in the Chrysler Build Your Dream Car contest on March 17 at the Center For Creative Studies in Detroit.

The competition was judged by three Chrysler engineers and developers.

Two groups from the Wayne Westland School District, one from the William D. Ford Career Technical Center and the other from Wayne Memorial High School, were chosen as the eight finalists.

The students from WMHS placed second and won a trophy and $2,000 for their school.

Dexter High School won first place.

"We were in the running with some very impressive schools," said Dave Bogataj, industrial arts teacher and the project's facilitator.

"I was the facilitator and

not the answer man. They did all of the decision making," he said.

As part of the competition the team had to make a formal presentation of a hypothetical vehicle complete with a marketing strategy to target a specific consumer, an economic package and all scientific principles.

Besides the technical and computer skills the students were using, they also had to master team work and public speaking, Bogataj said.

The team from Wayne, who are all members of the school's Motor Sports Team, put in over 1,500 hours on their family sport Sedan called the Illusion. Similar to the Bonneville or Integra, the Illusion can seat five people and has state-of-the-art safety features including an automatic adjusting airbag system and enhanced all around vision.

Three different models would be available in the year 2010. They would range in price from $21,000 to $26,000 and would be available at Chrysler-Plymouth, Dodge and Jeep-Eagle dealerships.

One rule of the competition was that the cars could not be designed for gasoline. An alternate fuel source had to be chosen. The team picked compressed natural gas.

"Everyone contributed to make sure the design would work," Bogataj said.

He said the team took ownership of this project. They collected pop bottles to come up with the $250 needed to make the model and absorb the other costs of the project.

Just like the professionals they were making the presentation to, the team kept their design top secret until the very end.

"They did exactly what the industry would have done," he said.

Lent to climax with Easter

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Powerful hymns of joyous adoration will fill Christian churches this weekend, as Catholics and Protestants alike will mark Easter Sunday with strong themes surrounding Jesus Christ's resurrection and ascension into heaven, three days after being crucified.

Sunrise services, Easter breakfasts and 11 a.m. family services will climax the Christian 40-day Lenten season and end the weeks of fasting (from favorite foods, drinks and social activities).

While Easter bonnets are less prevalent today than in past years, Easter Lily plants are just as plentiful in Christian sanctuaries.

Easter services will top off a spiritual rollercoaster week that began with Christ being greeted joyously in Jerusalem on Palm Sunday followed by more solemn Maundy Thursday (Last Supper remembrances), Good Friday rites (often three hour midday services (noon to 3 p.m.) marking the time Christ reportedly spent on the cross and finally the joyous Easter Sunday services.

A wide assortment of Good Friday services will be conducted tomorrow ranging from a Christian Men's breakfast in Canton to a midday hymn singing procession of Romulus area Christians.

The group will begin their walk from the Mary Ann Banks Memorial Park--Romulus Wesleyan Church area at noon, through downtown to Romulus Historical Park, where a Good Friday service will take place under the direction of the local pastor's association.

A Talent Appreciation Sunday program will take place at the Belleville First United Methodist Church following the 10:30 a.m. worship service on May 3.

A potluck luncheon, talent sharing display, talent show (live) and ice cream social will take place at that time.

Tables will be set up in the church's fellowship hall for the display of craft, hobby or collections.

It also was announced that the Belleville First United Methodist Church will honor Pastor David Strong on June 7 on his retirement from the ministry. It will mark his last Sunday in the pulpit.

The Michigan Promise Keepers Men's Conference date is quickly approaching -- May 15-16 at the Pontiac Silverdome. There is no cost to register this year, but a $15 designation is needed for a musical tape and lunch.

Participants need to register by calling 1-800-888-7595 to obtain an arm band to gain access to the stadium those two days.

Well-known Detroit United Methodist leader Dr. William Quick also will be honored in coming weeks in recognition of his planned July retirement.

Quick, who has been senior pastor at the Metro church since 1974, is known for his weekly radio broadcasts each Sunday morning and for his long and successful battles against casinos in Detroit for many years.

Quick currently is co-chair of the effort to place the casino issue back on the Michigan ballot this fall.

The first honoring session for Quick will be on May 29th, when his supporters will offer a dinner and special program at the Detroit Athletic Club. The dinner will be at 7 p.m. and tickets will cost $39 per person.

A second honoring session will take place following the 11 a.m. June 28th Sunday service at Metro Church.

Dinner will follow in the dining room and gymnasium in the church. Tickets will cost $10 each.

A building committee at the Community United Methodist Church of Romulus will be conducting a series of interviews for an architect for a possible renovation and or addition to the church building.

The 7 p.m. interview dates have been set for April 23, May 12, 21 and 28 and June 9.

Church members are invited to the interviews.

A community forum on assisted suicide will take place from 7 to 9 p.m. April 14 at the Faith Lutheran Church, 37635 Dequindre rd.

Speakers on the issue will include Richard Thompson, legal aspects; Dr. Mark Bustamante, pain management, and Nan Dimitri, impact on the disabled.

Questions will be fielded from the audience following each speaker.

The 35th annual rummage sale of the First United Methodist Church of Dearborn will be held April 23-25 under the direction of the junior and senior high school youth fellowship.

The sale will open from 7 to 9 p.m. on April 23 and then run 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. April 24 and 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. April 25. The church is located at 22124 Garrison at Mason in Dearborn, one block north of Michigan ave.

The Romulus Second Baptist Church (11242 Grover st.) will celebrate its 38th Congregation Anniversary with a three part program "Glorying God in his Temple" under the direction of Pastor Marcus L. Johnson Sr. The services will be conducted at 4 p.m. on April 19 and 26. An earlier session was held on April 5. For more information call the church at 941-0330.

Help for families of Alzheimers' disease patients is now available at St. John Neumann's Catholic Parish, 44800 Warren road, Canton. A support group has been formed at 7:30 p.m. the third Thursday of each month (April 16). It is facilitated by Rosemarie Shim, a social worker who has 14 years of experience of experience of working with Alzheimer patients and their families.

The annual Mother-Daughter Potluck Banquet of the Belleville First United Methodist Church will be held at 6:30 p.m. May 8 in the church's fellowship hall.

Entertainment will be provided by Glinda, the Fairy Godmother.

The Episcopal Diocese of Michigan is hosting a revival series by evangelical preacher, the Rev. Antoine Campbell of Houston, Tex.

The services will be held at 7 p.m. May 4 at St. Andrew's Church, 306 N. Division st., Ann Arbor and at 7 p.m. May 6 at the Cathedral of St. Paul at 4800 Woodward Ave., Detroit.

Bishop R. Stewart Wood Jr. said "revivals are in fact an Episcopal tradition dating back to John Wesley and George Whitefield in the mid-1700s.

Campbell is a former athlete, who recently was admitted into the Indiana Track and Field Hall of Fame. He states "it is possible to know God. It is possible to communicate with God by using the language Jesus Christ taught us...hope, love, faith and mercy."

Persons of all faiths are invited to attend the revival sessions, Campbell said.

St. Raphael Church will held its annual rummage/garage sale at its activities

ALL-AREA

BASKETBALL ROSTER

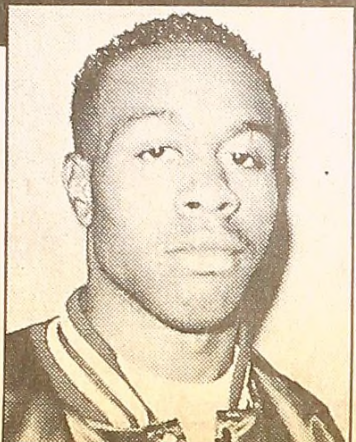

C.J. GRANTHAM

The son of a former All-Area player and the grandson of an All-State cager, Belleville's C. J. Grantham led the Tigers in overall scoring during a season that few in these parts will soon forget. C.J.'s desperation shot against highly-touted Kalamazoo Loy Norrix in the quarterfinals won the game and kept the Tigers' "Cinderella" post season dream alive. "C. J. made the crucial decisions on the floor," says coach Rod Fisher. fi-

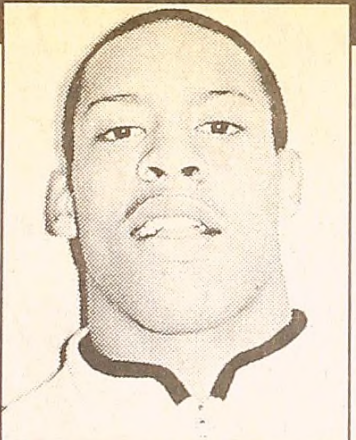

BRANDON DEYAMPERT

One reason why Romulus remained atop of the Class B state ratings and in the tough Mega Conference Red Division title race was due to the efforts of 6-3, 185-pound senior Brandon DeYampert. DeYampert, a legitimate All-State candidate, averaged 15 points per game and led the Eagles' in rebounding with 180. Romulus finished with a 19-5 record, which included finishing second-best to Class B state champ, River Rouge, in the conference.

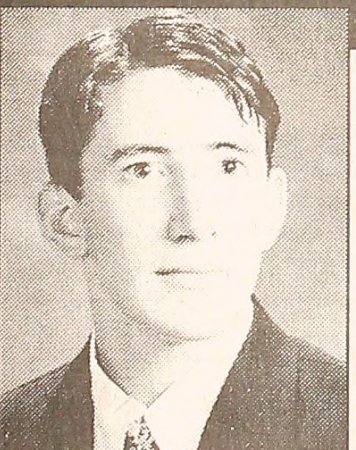

JASON MALLOY

The backbone of a team that captured the Mega Conference, White Division title, Jason Malloy culminated an outstanding athletic career at Robichaud High School with All-State recognition in basketball and football. The 6-2, 220-pound senior scored 15 points and grabbed 14 rebounds per game. The Bulldogs, under fifth-year coach Monte Dennard, finished with a 17-6 record.

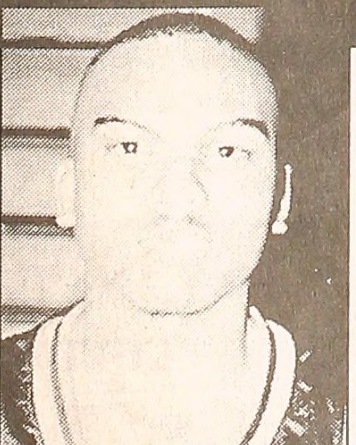

ANDY POWER

The importance of Andy Power to the Plymouth-Salem lineup was very evident when the senior captain was injured against John Glenn and was not available for post-season play. The Western Lakes Conference champs lost to Northville, a team the Rocks had beaten during the regular season. The loss cost them the district title and a shot at the state playoffs.

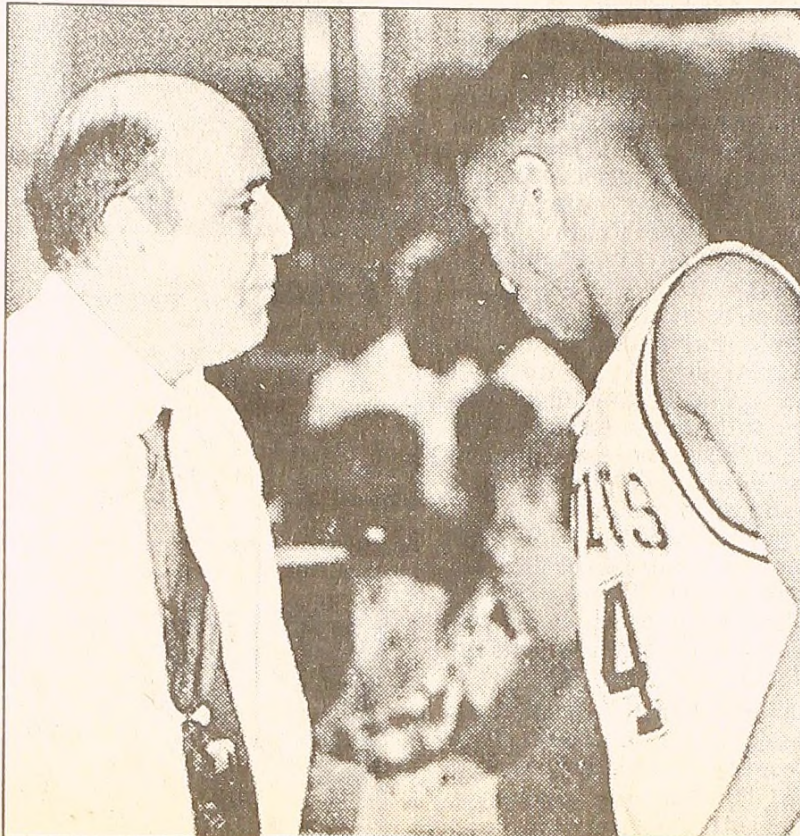

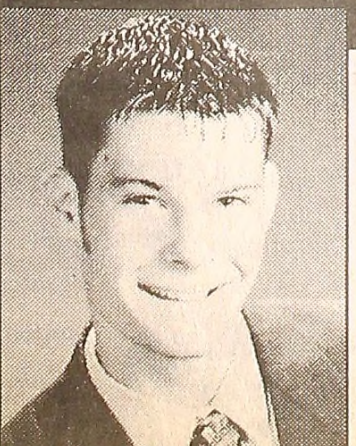

KEVIN EDWARDS

A two-year starter and John Edwards' cousin, Kevin Edwards was the third sharpshooter that formed the deadly shooting ring around the perimeter in the three-guard Belleville format. Considered the best of the perimeter shooters, Kevin also was a hard-nosed defensive player. "He (Kevin) did all of the little things that are needed to be done to make a team a winner," coach Rod Fisher notes.

ERIC LARSEN

The best rebounder and hardest worker in the Plymouth-Canton lineup this season was Eric Larsen who made sure that the Chiefs remained in contention in all of their games. The Chiefs came within a trey of upsetting their natural rival, Salem, which won the Western Lakes Conference title this year. Also a versatile athlete, Larsen will be competing for the Chiefs in track.

DelGiudice picked area's No. 1 coach

How can a coach who has won 19 of his 24 games in one of the toughest basketball conferences in the state - the Mega Conference Red Division - walk away and use an adjective like "disappointed" in describing the season.

Well, if you're veteran coach Guy DelGiudice, you can.

DelGiudice, who completed his sixth season as head basketball coach at Romulus High, wanted to see the 1997-98 Eagles in the state championship game. He felt that anything short wouldn't cut it.

The Eagles did win a district title, but ran up against a controversial River Rouge team that some prognosticators believed to be the best in any class this season. Rouge defeated Romulus in the championship round of the Class B regionals, then went on to claim the state title.

That loss to Rouge was an emotional one for the Eagles and their coach who were the only ones to mar the Panthers' near-perfect 27-1 overall record.

The irony of the season is that if DelGiudice and the Eagles had been playing Class A ball they just may have gone all the way. They had beaten Belleville, a state finalist twice this year and matched up solidly with the rest of the field.

Why was this Romulus team so special to the veteran coach?

"This is a team that played together since they were in junior high, a team whose players also played together in AAU games. It was their time and I felt that they should have gone all the way."

"Let me say this again, that I am not disappointed in the team or my players, but with not going further in the playoffs."

"I am proud of them and for what they have achieved," DelGiudice added.

And, before the Michigan Community Newspapers' Sports Staff puts closure on this year's season, there is just one more tribute that belongs to the Romulus coach.

Guy DelGiudice has been selected as the MCN's 1997-98 Coach of the Year.

JEFF CORTELLINI

A tremendous ball-handler and shooter, Plymouth-Canton's Joe Cortellini was the heart and soul of the Canton team this season. The team's top scorer, the 5-11 junior guard averaged 18 points per game and hit 30 points, a personal high, during the campaign. "Joe's what we call a full-player. He can do everything," Canton coach Dan Young commented.

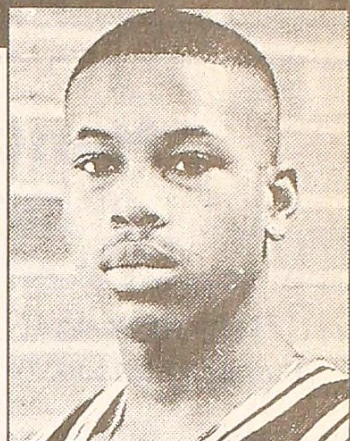

JOHN EDWARDS

Started in every game during the 1997-98 campaign, Belleville's junior guard John Edwards was deadly from three-point land. Edwards' last-second shot in the Breslin Center rang the final bell for Flint Northwestern in the state semis which enabled the Tigers to reach the Class A state championship round for the first time in recent memory.

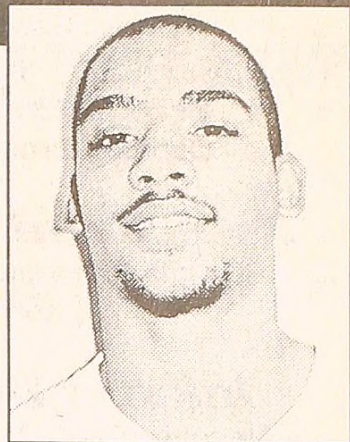

MELVIN HICKS

Belleville coach Rod Fisher may disagree, but you probably can't find a better "three" shooter than Romulus' senior point-guard Melvin Hicks. Hicks, who connected on 43 percent of his attempts from treyl-land scored at a 19-point per game clip in a 19-5 overall season. Very athletic, Melvin also was assigned the task of guarding the opposition's top scorer and he got the job done.

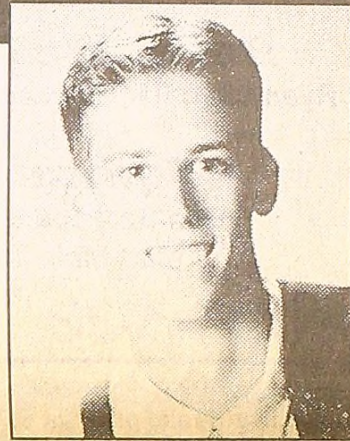

PETER BROOKS

Robichaud's field general, Peter Brooks is the Bulldogs' best athlete. Brooks scored in double figures in most of the 23 games he started this year, averaging 14 per game. He also hauled in eight rebounds per game. "Brooks has a tremendous first step, and he's unstoppable when the defense is caught off guard. He also runs our floor game," says coach Monte Dennard.

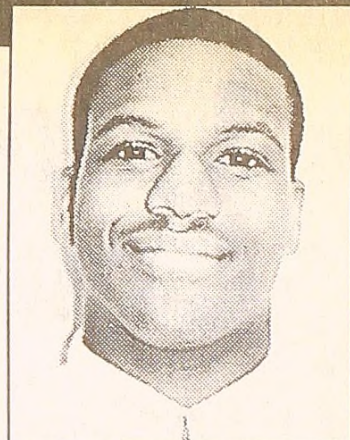

JEFF MCKIAN

A reliable performer who provided Plymouth-Salem with leadership that helped the Rocks roll to conference and divisional titles, team co-captain Jeff McKian also joins teammate Andy Power on the all-conference team. McKian's credentials include 11 points, six-rebounds and two steals per game. In a Salem season that started off shaky - two straight losses - McKian helped reverse the tide and stabilize the Rocks.

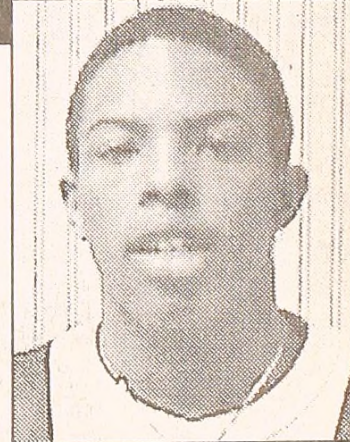

ERIC JONES

The only sophomore to break into the elite All-Area lineup this season, Westland John Glenn's Eric Jones is a rare athletic talent. The 5-11 shooting guard led the team in scoring and pumped in baskets at a 17 ppg. clip. He also is credited with four steals per game. Named to the all-Western Lakes Conference team, Jones led the Rockets to a share of their divisional title.

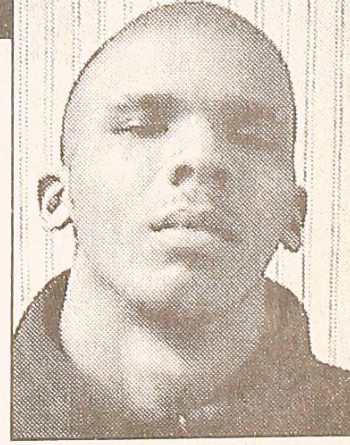

MICHAEL WILLIAMS

Though in the rebuilding mode, Inkster has a junior guard who made waves this season. Michael Williams was the catalyst in the Vikings return to hoop respectability as he nailed 15 points per game and counted four assists. "Michael has a tremendous amount of potential and as he matures, he is going to be one of our premier players," said first-year coach Hilton Graham.

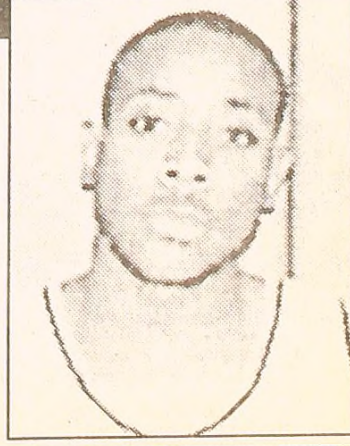

TOM CUNNINGHAM

As the season progressed Inkster's 6-7 center/forward Tom Cunningham flexed his muscles at both ends of the court. "We needed someone to take command of the boards," says Inkster coach Hilton Graham, "and Cunningham took on that role. He's young and learning, and he's going to be tough next year. Cunningham scored at a 12-point per game clip. And he also averaged nine rebounds."

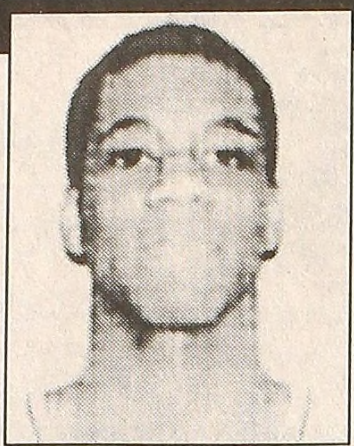

JAMAR DAVIS

One Wayne Memorial player that really blossomed this season is junior guard Jamar Davis who averaged 10-point per game. Jamar gave Wayne the needed perimeter shooting that would force the defense to focus on him. "He is also an outstanding player on defense," says coach Chuck Henry. "He is going to be a very valuable asset next year when many of our players will be returning."

BRIAN WILLIAMS

Wayne Memorial's Brian Williams didn't have the supporting cast that former Wayne star Lorenzo Guess enjoyed during his four year stint with coach Chuck Henry's outstanding teams. But Williams carried the Zebras with his play and leadership. The 6-2 senior point guard averaged a hefty 18.7 points per game and four assists.

The Friday night Men's Division will have eight teams competing for the league title, with the first of four games beginning at 6:15 p.m. Games will be played on Field A, and there is a $475 registration fee.

In the two remaining leagues - the Friday Men's Blue Division (Field B) and the Sunday Men's Doubleheader White Division, managers will have to fork up $475 and $500, respectively, to sign up their teams. The Friday night division will have a total of eight teams, while those who plan to play doubleheaders will have a field of 10 teams.

The 1998 Saturn Station Wagon Great for the small family!

By RITA BEDELL
MCN Special Writer

I recently test drove the 1998 Saturn SW1. A very nice car at quite a reasonable price.

This is a great car for a small family. Although, being on the large side myself, I felt a little cramped in the drivers seat. The passenger side had plenty of leg room. The rear seating compartment is fine for small children, although I would not recommend going too far with larger teens or adults.

For the small family, there is plenty of storage space in the rear compartment to take a nice little trip.

The Saturn SW1 comes with quite the standard equipment package! To start with, it had a 1.9 liter, 6 valve engine with a 4 speed automatic transmission. Power steering, power brakes with front disc, independent 4 wheel suspension, lube-for-life suspension and dent resistant exterior panels are only a few!

The controls in the front seating area were well placed for the driver. Three speed intermittent wipers on the wheel, an adjustable steering column, am/fm stereo with 4 speaker system well within reach without the stretch of larger cars.

The Saturn also comes standard with front console with cup holders, a digital quartz clock, rear window defroster and wiper/washer, rear cargo net, as well as a remote hatch and fuel fill.

The folding rear seats made this Saturn catch my eye because I tend to haul a lot of things from location to location. This small car sure can hold a lot when packed correctly.

The safety features of the Saturn are dual reduced force airbags (great if you have small children), daytime running lamps which help lower your insurance rates, side door beams which reduce your risk of injury in the case of side impact, adjustable front shoulder belts for comfort, 3 point front and rear safety belts, and child security rear door locks.

The SW1 'Package 1' which was on the Saturn I test drove, comes with power locks with remote keyless entry and security system, power windows, air conditioning, power remote control right side view mirror and cruise control at a cost of $2055.

You may also purchase carpeted front and rear floor mats which coordinate with the color of your Saturn at a charge of $60. Anti-lock braking system with traction control is available for only $95. The am/fm stereo with cassette and front and rear speakers is also available for only $280.

Gas mileage is great in this car-27 mpg city and 34 mpg highway. This is definitely the car you would like for everyday driving in the city!

The exterior seemed to be designed to help cut down on being thrown around in the wind. Usually the smaller cars have a tendency to be blown quite easily, but the slim design of the Saturn helps you keep the car in a straight line.

I am not a person who is much for a gold car. Although the color of gold they painted this Saturn was beautiful which accentuated the tan interior.

In all, I really don't have many complaints about the Saturn SW1 except for the fact that it was not made for tall or large people. But for a small family, taking a trip would be a breeze in this cute little car, and driving around the city is great for the price conscious when it comes to gas mileage.

Go to your local dealer and test drive the Saturn, I'm sure you will find the Saturn to be well within your budget.

With the 'Package' I mentioned above, as well as all the extras, The Saturn I drove was only $16,665. With a base price of $13,195, this is one economical little car!

Coming from a person who prefers the larger cars, I was impressed with this smaller station wagon. Way to go Saturn!!!
